A Petition in Bankruptcy
Against Mrs. Chadwick.

Owing to Receivership She Remained in New York Today.

Newton's Lawyer Still Confident She Will Pay Him.
Complete Investigation is to be Made and the Mystery May be Solved After All.

MRS. CHADWICK'S AMAZING EXPENDITURES.
Chicago, Dec. 2.—Today's American enumerates a few of Mrs. Chadwick's amazing expenditures as follows:
Purchased eight pianos in one day and gave them to friends.
Purchased diamond rings by the tray.
Had jeweler travel 12,409 miles to get a particular kind of ring.
Solid gold ornaments prevail everywhere in her home.
Gave her husband a Christmas surprise by having the house entirely renovated and refurnished in one night while he was at the theater.
Gave her cook a costly sealskin jacket.
Took twelve young society girls to Europe.
Would go shopping in a costume made entirely of sealskins.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—The third continuance was taken this morning in the case of Banker Newton against Mrs. C. L. Chadwick, in which application was made for a receiver for the Chadwick securities. The case was today postponed until December 10.
At New York this afternoon the sheriff served a writ of attachment obtained by counsel for Louise & Co., dressmakers, on Managers Harryman, of the Holland House, on behalf of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick. The writ is for $14,000, and instructs Manager Harryman not to remove or permit to be removed any of the property of Mrs. Chadwick from the hotel.

New York, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick is still at the Holland House this morning. She spent the night in the same apartment that she has had in the hotel during the last week. It was learned this morning that Mrs. Chadwick was deterred from going to Cleveland last night by advice of counsel here in regard to the receivership proceeding brought in Cleveland. Attorney Loeser has been appointed by the United States court. It was also learned Mrs. Chadwick has no intention of sailing for Europe, that she purposes to settle the claims of Jacques Krakauer, dealer in laces and house furnishings in New York. His claim upon Mrs. Chadwick is only for $500, and she expects that the same action that was taken in the Newton case will result in the settlement of this new claim and that the receivership proceedings will again be withdrawn. Shortly after Mrs. Chadwick received word from counsel that receivership proceedings had been begun in Cleveland, a man who refused to give his name, called at the hotel and sent his card up to Mrs. Chadwick. Shortly thereafter the couple appeared in the main dining room for dinner. One hundred or more of the fashionable men and women of New York were seated, and Mrs. Chadwick, becomingly gowned in a brown silk evening dress, attracted many glances, though her identity was known to few. Following this dinner interview and after the stranger had departed, Mrs. Chadwick called up the home. At Fassaletto, J. of George E. Ryall, of counsel for H. I. Newton. Mrs. Chadwick assured Ryall that the new receivership proceedings would have no effect upon her agreement to settle the Newton claim of $190,800 according to the terms decided upon.
This morning a flutter of excitement was created in the lobby of the Holland by the entrance of a fashionably dressed man who spoke to the clerk concerning Mrs. Chadwick's whereabouts in the city, and who proclaimed himself as "Coleman Carnegie." The man was informed that no statement could be made concerning Mrs. Chadwick for the reason that the management had decided to give out no further information about her. The man then said he was "Coleman Carnegie, Andrew Carnegie's nephew." The hotel clerk called the house detective and the mysterious man was escorted up Fifth avenue.
The name Coleman Carnegie does not appear in the city directory or the social register.
An army of reporters remained in the lobby of the hotel during the entire night owing to many rumors that Mrs. Chadwick was about to depart. It was said that the woman might leave aboard any one of the twelve liners that are due to leave port today. The steamship agents denied these reports in every instance.
George E. Ryall, the attorney for Newton, made this statement today: "My understanding was that Mrs. Chadwick was to leave for Cleveland last night and the reason she did not go was because of the new proceeding for a receivership. So far as the Newton claims are concerned we are not worrying. No payments have been made, but the terms agreed upon for a settlement are absolutely satisfactory to us and we are confident beyond question that Mrs. Chadwick will settle these claims on time. It must be remembered that Mrs. Chadwick had many influential friends in Cleveland and elsewhere who will stand by her. She does not purpose to run away for she has nothing to run away from so far as I can see. I believe she will return to Cleveland Sunday or Monday and that the new receivership proceedings will be dropped and that the claims will be adjusted without legal procedure."

Mrs. Chadwick consulted her counsel, Philip Carpenter, over the telephone this morning. She breakfasted in her room. The much heralded statement expected from her which her counsel has claimed would clear up all doubt as to her antecedents and financial position was not forthcoming today and the lawyers who claimed that it would be written by her as soon as she would be able to do so today refused to be interviewed on the subject.
Petition in Bankruptcy.
Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—Another move has just been made in the sensational Chadwick case. Jacques Krakauer of New York filed a petition in bankruptcy against Mrs. C. L. Chadwick in the federal court here. Krakauer is a dealer in laces and embroidery. He claims $600 to be due him. Later Nathan Loeser was appointed receiver for all the property of every kind and description belonging to Mrs. Chadwick. The receiver was appointed by Referee Harold Remington, who was empowered to act in the absence of United States District Judge Wing. Referee Remington fixed the bond of Mr. Loeser at $10,000. The latter is an attorney of this city. The plaintiffs in their petition declare "that within four months preceding the filing of this petition, while insolvent, Mrs. Chadwick paid to D. Wheaton & Son of Cleveland $700, with intent to prefer Wheaton over other creditors." The Wheatons are meat dealers here. The adjudication under the bankruptcy law of Mrs. Chadwick's affairs will mean their full closing up. It will force a settlement and a complete stoppage of further operations by Mrs. Chadwick and involve a complete investigation, exposure and final distribution of her property among the various creditors.
The petition filed against Mrs. Chadwick in behalf of Jacques Krakauer of New York and others in Cleveland for involuntary bankruptcy makes the claim that Mrs. Chadwick had committed an act of bankruptcy, indicating insolvency, four months ago, by transferring to the Savings Deposit and Bank Trust company of Ellyria of a chattel mortgage upon her personal property at her home in Euclid avenue, Cleveland. Under the bankruptcy law any money paid out upon a debt within six months previous to the filing of the petition in bankruptcy is considered to mean that the bankrupt prefers them to other creditors.

NINETY OUT OF 900
HAVE SMALLPOX
Chillicothe, O., Dec. 3.—Twenty-five new cases of smallpox are reported from Kingston, making 90 in all. Kingston has a population of about 500 and smallpox has been epidemic there for some time. No deaths have occurred.

DAYTON MAN KILLS
WIFE AND SELF TODAY

Dayton, O., Dec. 3.—Charles Fraver, 67, while his wife was sleeping this morning, sent a bullet through her head. He then turned the revolver on himself and ended his life. Their son Joseph and wife rushed to the door just after the second shot had been fired. Fraver probably shot his wife and himself because she wanted to go to Indiana to visit friends.

CALEB POWERS

Decision Will Probably Be Announced
Next Tuesday By Kentucky
Court of Appeals.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3.—A decision by the court of appeals was expected in the case of Caleb Powers, in the jail at Louisville under sentence of death for conspiracy in the assassination of William Goebel, but it was not handed down. It is understood, however, that the decision will be announced Tuesday. The court of appeals overruled the petition for rehearing in the case of J. W. Bess, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Martha Martin and under sentence of death. Governor Beckham will fix a day for the execution, which will probably be in January.

SPAIN'S REPLY

Explained the Situation to Japan Saying That Alfonso Observed the Strictest Neutrality.

Madrid, Dec. 3.—Spain has made official complaint to Japan regarding the attitude of the Spanish government in permitting vessels of the Russian second Pacific squadron to coal and victual at Vigo. The Japanese minister admitted that he had recently made representations on the subject, and said he had submitted Spain's reply to Tokyo. At the foreign office it is stated that Spain's reply explained the situation and took up the position that Spain observed the strictest neutrality.

FIRE ON PIKE

Conflagration Gave the Firemen a Stubborn Fight—Valuable Paintings Were Destroyed.

St. Louis, Dec. 3.—A conflagration which gave the firemen a stubborn fight, and which, owing to the high wind, threatened the entire exposition grounds, was discovered in "Ancient Rome," on the pike, shortly after midnight. The flames spread with great rapidity and destroyed part of "Fair Japan," all of "Quo Vadis" and the "Streets of Rome." In addition to the loss of the buildings a collection of oil paintings, depicting scenes in the novel "Quo Vadis," valued at $75,000, was burned. They were painted by Jan Styka, a Polish artist, and were brought to this country under a bond of $50,000. A man who gave the name of Arthur V. Dunn was arrested, charged with suspected arson. He was seen, it is said, in the vicinity before the fire was discovered.

LONG DROUGHT

In West Virginia Broken By a Light Rain—Damage to Wheat Will be Enormous.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 3.—Special dispatches from all sections of West Virginia state that the drought which has prevailed since August has been ended by the coming of a light rain, which is likely to turn to snow. The damage to the winter wheat crop, it is believed, will be enormous, the rain having come too late. Pastures also will have to be resown in the West Virginia blue grass region. The rain thus far is not sufficient to give relief unless it continues several days, most of the smaller water courses being dried up.

Mrs. Chadwick's Movements.

New York, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Cassie Chadwick was in consultation with the firm of Butler, Notman, Joline & Myrdorff, lawyers of Wall street. It was stated on good authority that this firm has been Mrs. Chadwick's counsel in this city for a number of years, and one of her lawyers said that the fact that the firm has done business for a prominent millionaire, whose name has appeared in connection with notes in this case, was simply a coincidence. It was also stated that no money or securities had been passed in the Newton suit, but that Mr. Newton had been given assurances as to a settlement, and that the money would be passed within a few days.
An Awful Mistake.
Wife—My dressmaker is getting altogether too old-fashioned to suit me.
Husband—Why, my dear, your new gown is strictly up-to-date.
Wife—Yes, I know; but she actually sent it home the day she promised it.

THREE

Millions Wanted for
New Rural Routes

POSTAL OFFICIALS DRAFT AN ESTIMATE OF COST

Congress Will Open Monday at Washington.

A DEFICIENCY IN THE REVENUES

Special Package Rates Desired for the Country Districts—The Coming Session.

Washington, Dec. 3.—An increased deficiency of $2.53 per cent over the previous year is shown by the financial statement for the postal service, incorporated in the annual report of E. C. Madden, third assistant postmaster general, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904. The report shows, however, that the increase in expenditures is on account of the rural free delivery service. Were it not for this extraordinary expenditure the postal service now would be about self-sustaining. The total receipts from all sources for the fiscal year were $143,552,624 and the total expenditures $152,362,116, leaving a deficiency of $8,779,492.

Extension of rural free delivery has resulted in an increase of 1,125 in the number of postoffices discontinued during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, according to the annual report of J. L. Bristow, fourth assistant postmaster general. During the year there were 2,549 postoffices established and 5,537 discontinued. There was a decrease of 153 in the number of offices established. The principal cause of the increase in discontinuances has been the extension of the rural free delivery service. "The total number of discontinuances were 3,570 postoffices, with a saving in salaries of postmasters aggregating $171,121. At the close of the fiscal year there were 71,131 postoffices in the United States, 255 first class, 1,294 second class, 2,896 third class and 63,766 fourth class.

Operation of rural mail delivery and the extension by private interests of rural telephone service has created a demand from patrons of rural routes for the delivery of small packages of merchandise on an order to local merchants by postal card, telephone or otherwise. The value of such packages is small, and the present rate of a cent per ounce, the report says, is practically prohibitive. Mr. Bristow recommends that congress fix a rate of 3 cents per pound or any fractional part thereof on packages not exceeding five pounds, mailed at the distributing postoffice of any rural free delivery route. If this special rate were established, Mr. Bristow says, it would be a great convenience to patrons and become a source of revenue to the department. It is estimated that $500,000 will be needed by the department to continue the establishment of rural routes as fast as they are favorably reported and approved for the remainder of the current fiscal year. It is likely that 1,200 routes will be reported within the next two months, and with this rate the appropriation available will be exhausted about Jan. 15, 1905. An appropriation of $2,000,000 for the establishment of new routes will be asked by the department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906.

Congress to Convene.

At 12 Monday the second session of Fifty-eighth congress will be called to order by President Pro Tem. Frye in the senate and by Speaker Cannon in the house. The chaplains will pray, the rolls will be called, the regular resolutions of notification will be passed, committees to inform the president will be appointed, and adjournment will follow out of respect for the deceased member. The senate is sure to adjourn as a tribute of respect to the late Senator Hoar (Mass.), and the late Senator Quay (Pa.).

After the president's message is read the regular business of the session will begin, and the legislative wheels will grind steadily until March 4, 1905. There is plenty to do, but in the three months' session probably will do little more than pass the regular annual appropriation bills. There has been some talk of an extra session on account of tariff legislation, but the majority of congressmen here oppose the proposition.

There is one feature of the tariff revision talk that has some substance. More revenue must be had or there must be a curtailment of expenditures. With the increasing annual appropriations a river and harbor bill, increase of the navy, the Panama canal and other features of extraordinary disbursement, there will be need of more money than present customs and internal revenues provide.

LANGUAGE UNFIT
TO GO ON RECORD

Sandusky, O., Dec. 3.—Judge Reed this morning ordered all pleadings in the case of E. H. Zuercher against Charles B. Caldwell and Katherine Krell stricken from the court files. He said the pleadings were couched in language unfit to go on the records of the court. The suit commenced by Zuercher grew out of a political fight.

MARTIAL LAW

Not Yet Declared at Mining Town of Zeigler Ill.—Governor Makes a Statement.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 3.—Governor Yates gave out the following statement regarding the situation at Zeigler after hearing the report of Assistant Adjutant General Reece: "There is nothing to be said relating to the presence and action of the state troops at Zeigler except that two companies were sent there and are there now, for the protection of life and the preservation of peace. They were sent upon absolute demand of the sheriff of Franklin county, who stated in three different telegrams that he was absolutely unable to preserve order. There has been no proclamation of martial law. The sheriff asserts that the presence of troops is still necessary."

AS A WOMAN

Mr. Dove Is Said to Be Disguised—
The office of Minneapolis Have a Slight Clue.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 3.—The Minneapolis police are busily engaged in searching for "Mr. Dove," supposed to be in hiding in this city, disguised as a woman. The idea that the man wanted in Chicago for the famous automobile murder mystery is in this city was given the police when a federal employee and a companion told the story of how they were attracted to a heavily veiled woman, who boarded the Minneapolis and St. Louis train out of Chicago Thursday night. She entered the dining car, where the two men were already seated, and appeared very nervous when she ordered her supper. It was not till her order had been placed before her that she raised the veil, when it was noticed that the supposed woman wore a wig and the features were undoubtedly masculine. It was learned that the party, whoever it was, left the sleeping car which she occupied as soon as it reached Minneapolis.

DUN'S REVIEW

Holiday Goods Moving Freely and Staple Lines Are More Active—Business Conditions.

New York, Dec. 3.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Holiday goods are moving freely. In staple lines there is more activity, even the products that are between seasons finding a fair market. Packing and shipping departments are increasing forces, and traffic congestion at several points indicates that the growth of business has overtaken railway facilities. Earnings of all roads reporting for November show an average gain of 7.1 per cent over last year. Weather conditions have favored jobbing and retail distribution of heavy wearing apparel, and also accelerated the marketing of new corn, but there is not sufficient moisture for winter wheat or coke production. A record-breaking yield of cotton is bringing the price nearer the point at which normal consumption may be resumed, although there is still much idle machinery at Fall River. Other manufacturing news is most gratifying.

LICENSE

Refused in Newark But Miles Was Successful
at Zanesville.

John Miles, a member of the well known Miles family of this city, made application to Judge Brown on Saturday morning for a license to marry Phoebe E. Taylor. The application, however, was refused by the judge. Noting denied Miles went to Zanesville and secured a marriage license from the probate court of Adams county, and returned to Newark. The ceremony was performed at Zeigler Lake Saturday afternoon.

JAPS MOUNTING GUNS

Activity Not Relaxed by the Capture of 203 Metre Hill.

Six Hours Armistice Declared to Bury the Dead.

Black Sea Fleet May Join Baltic Squadron—Report
Disturbs England—Cossack Force in Danger.
Kuropatkin Will Not Assume Offensive.

Tokyo, Dec. 3.—Advice received today from the vicinity of Port Arthur show that the activity of the Japanese has not been relaxed with the capture of 203-meter hill. Already they have begun placing big guns in position on the hill and positions for twenty of them have been constructed.

Six Hours Armistice.
Tokyo, Dec. 3.—The first armistice between the combatants at Port Arthur was declared yesterday for the purpose of burying the dead. It lasted six hours.

Establishing Winter Quarters.
Mukden, Dec. 3.—Indications point that General Kuropatkin has resolved not to assume the offensive in Manchuria during the winter months. The Russians are establishing winter quarters and collecting huge stores of forage and provisions. Believing that general hostilities will not be resumed during the winter, there has been a great exodus of newspaper men and military attaches. Lieut. Col. Schuyler, and Col. Reimann, U. S. military attaches with Kuropatkin's army, are among the latest departures. Outpost fighting continues on both flanks.

The Black Sea Fleet.

London, Dec. 3.—The possibility of Russia trying to send her Black sea fleet to the far east strongly engages the attention of England in view of the complications which would result if such an attempt were made. It is understood that at the beginning of the war Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister here, questioned Foreign Minister Lansdowne on the subject, and received the most formal assurances that Great Britain would oppose any attempt of the Black sea fleet to pass into the Mediterranean sea. It is contended in some quarters that Great Britain could not suffer a violation of the treaties regulating navigation of the Dardanelles without violating the spirit of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

The Morning Post declares that the British cabinet, which yielded to Russia on several points in the far east, like the Malacca and Knight Commander cases, and which had allowed the Dogger bank affair to be referred to arbitration rather than go to war, will not be likely to interfere to prevent the exit of the Black sea fleet, especially as neither France, Germany nor Austria is likely to interfere, and predicts that there long the Black sea squadron will be en route to join Rojstrensky.

A Sebastopol dispatch to the Daily Graphic asserts that Admirals Alexieff and Grand admiral Alexander Michailovich (the latter the head of the Russian mercantile marine) both advocate sending out the Black sea fleet.

Stoessel Will Not Surrender.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 3.—With the confirmation of the news that the Japanese have occupied 203-meter hill, and the report that the Russians unsuccessfully attempted its capture, officials in the war office are beginning to prepare themselves for the inevitable. Golden hill and Laurel hill are higher and dominate 203-meter hill, but the officials say that if the Japanese succeed in mounting heavy guns upon the latter it probably will be only a question of days or weeks before the fortress falls. Still, there is not the slightest idea among General Stoessel's friends that he will surrender. It is said that it is possible that if the fall of the fortress is shown to be inevitable, the emperor may direct the surrender in order to prevent the unnecessary sacrifice of the remainder of those who know General Stoessel best that he will hold out until the very last moment.

Jap Rifles Captured.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 3.—The situation of the Russian forces south of Mukden is again attracting attention, but the military in progress are very positive. The war office is inclined to believe that General Rennenkampf has fully paroled a Japanese detachment below Shantung as far as the Taiho river, and on the right Russian scouts have explored the Hun river below Liaoyang. All the passes fell into Rennenkampf's hands. The Japanese apparently failed to show their old-time form. The same report says the Japanese threw away their rifles, many of which were captured.

Other reports say Japanese officers shot five soldiers who refused to face the foe. There was a heavy bombardment along the Russian centre and right, which might indicate that General Kuropatkin is preparing to assume the offensive.

Black Sea Fleet May Go.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 3.—The reinforcing of Vice Admiral Rojstrensky's squadron with the Black sea fleet is again being agitated by some of the papers, notably the Novoye Vremya, which points out that with the addition of the Black sea vessels Rojstrensky will have a superiority which will insure victory over Admiral Togo's fleet. The Novoye Vremya calls attention to the fact that Japan was not one of the signatories of the treaty closing the Dardanelles, and asserts that if Japan had the power she might force an entrance into the Black sea and engage the Russian fleet. With the consent of the port there is nothing in the treaty to prevent the exit of the Black sea fleet to fight some power which is no wise involved in the treaty.

In Winter Quarters.

Mukden, Dec. 3.—Lieutenant Colonel Schuler and Captain Reichmann of the United States army and Colonel Waters of the British army have left for St. Petersburg. Only six foreign correspondents remain, and some of these contemplate going home. Opinion is divided still as to the prospects of another big battle being fought before spring. There is no sign of a movement on the part of the Russians, who are establishing themselves in quarters that would answer for the winter and accumulating large supplies of forage and provisions.

Rennenkampf Threatened.

Mukden, Dec. 3.—It is reported that General Rennenkampf has captured several Japanese guns and a convoy with 600 rifles, but that a force of 40,000, consisting of Chinese bandits and a reserve of 8,000 Japanese, has started to turn Rennenkampf's flank.

The largest and perhaps most prominent social event of the week was the dancing party given Thursday evening at Assembly Hall by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webb, who have returned to Newark to make it their future abiding place. A double welcome was extended—a welcome from the host and hostess to the guests, and a "welcome home" from each guest to Mr. and Mrs. Webb. It surely was a happy occasion. There were about two hundred and fifty present, half of whom danced, the other half enjoying the beautiful sight, meanwhile, engaging in lively conversation. Supper was served in the gallery at small, daintily appointed tables, which were lighted with pink candles. Among the guests from out of town were Mrs. James Dille Barton of Chicago, Miss Isabelle Martin of Bryce, Ohio, Mrs. Weston of Boston, Mrs. Howe and Miss Ella Howe of Granville, Mrs. Brady of New York, Mrs. Symons of Meadville, Pa., Miss Nichols of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Davis of Boston. Mr. Gaston Davis of Granville, Ohio, and Mrs. James Daniels of Columbus, Ohio. There were many beautiful new gowns to grace the occasion. Mrs. Miller wore an exquisite white lace robe over white silk, and Mrs. Webb wore a handsome black gown.

One of the pleasant events of the week was the trolley party that left the interurban depot on the 7 o'clock car Monday evening, for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wickham of Madison township. Their Newark friends had for some time contemplated making a trip to their hospitable home. However, Monday being the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Miss Margaret, they decided Monday evening would be a very fitting time, consequently about fifty of their friends, with well-filled baskets, repaired to the home and took possession and for a time all went as merry as a marriage bell. The evening was very pleasantly spent in playing games of various kinds interspersed with good music, both vocal and instrumental. The only regret was that the evening passed too rapidly. Refreshments were served during the evening to which all did ample justice. At a late hour the crowd left for the Clay City depot, each wishing Miss Margaret many returns of the anniversary day, and to Mr. and Mrs. Wickham a vote of thanks for their kindness and hospitality and feeling that it was good to have been there, at least all did except one young man who thought it was a very solemn occasion.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Lippincott, Mrs. Carcy Miller, Mrs. Kate Cunningham, Mrs. Rebecca Jones, Mrs. Tyrer, Mrs. Eberley, Mrs. Ida Lamb, Mrs. Ida Cunningham, Mrs. Maggie Mitchell, Mrs. Wilson, the Misses Mattie Redman, Mary Loughman, Irene Allison, Katie Lynn, Bessie Lucas, Mary Larson, Amanda Burkham, Cecilia Hughes, Margaret Wickham, Georgie Vandebark, Anna

A NEWARK CASE. Many More Like It in Newark. The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Newark. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

C. L. Starr, harness-maker, of 89 Hancock St., Newark, O., says: "My confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as a kidney and backache remedy is unshaken. In recommending this preparation I speak from experience. For years I was a sufferer from kidney complaint and backache and could get no relief. I had a miserable aching pain in the loins and my back was aching and weak. It was just as bad night or day and when I attempted to stoop or pick up anything a pain would strike me in the back that almost made me fall. If I remained in one position for any length of time and then moved quickly the pain stabbed me like the thrust of a knife. I suffered in this way for years, and all the remedies that I tried failed to help me. I was just as bad as ever when I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store, and you may believe that I was delighted when the first few doses brought me relief. In less than forty-eight hours the backache was gone and I continued the treatment until entirely free from my old trouble. My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did the same for her, and neither of us have had any return of kidney trouble since using them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Against Department Stores. Berlin, Dec. 3.—The reichstag, after two days' debate, adopted a resolution asking the government to introduce a bill for the protection of the middle commercial classes against great accumulations of capital in retail lines. The resolution contemplates a further extension of the law against unfair competition and the regulation of closing out sales so as to prevent bogus advertisements, and also seeks a remedy against the hardships caused by sales on the installment plan. Finally the resolution demands the prohibition of government officials, including army and navy officers, from running co-operative department stores. The Socialists opposed the resolution at every point as being an inadequate measure and as tending to hinder natural economic tendencies.

Use of Dogs in Warfare. Berlin, Dec. 3.—Germany's experiments in using dogs in the suppression of the Southwest African rebellion have proved highly successful. Many dogs were sent out with the previous expedition, and a half a dozen will be taken on the next transport sailing for Africa. The dogs do excellent service in preventing night surprises of the men on guard duty by Hereros armed with kiris or native clubs. The dogs are also particularly used for tracking fleeing natives and finding wounded men in the bush and on the battlefield.

The ink can be used with a rubber hand stamp, and it should be allowed to remain 15 minutes, when the barium will be washed off, leaving the design on the glass.

TARIFF REFORM

What May be Done by President Roosevelt, Despite Certain Republican Opposition.

Numerous reports sent out from Washington relative to tariff revision and the President's position on the subject agree that a fight for the reduction of excessive and unnecessary taxation is inevitable and that upon the accomplishment of that revision will depend the success or failure of Mr. Roosevelt's administration from 1905 to 1909. While the President realizes the necessity of maintaining "the organization" and possibly recognizing the protective principle in event of a general overhauling of the tariff schedule, it is gratifying to know that in his grand scheme of commercial aggrandizement the theory of freer trade holds a most important place. As a matter of fact the reactionaries and the "stand-patters" in the party are to have little to say concerning the tariff, and if reports be reliable, he will take more advanced ground than McKinley did in his Buffalo speech in favor of removing the fetters from our foreign trade. Nothing could be more reasonable than that President Roosevelt should do this. His sympathy with the West is pronounced and his bearing toward what has been known as the "Iowa idea," fathered by Governor Cummins, has been no secret. The question with Mr. Roosevelt has been as to how far he could go without shattering party traditions and party precedent. He is aware that from the present Congress he can expect little. To the House of Representatives elected on the 8th of last month, however, he will doubtless look for sturdy support. In that House will sit anywhere from 40 to 60 men whose return to public life at the end of two years will depend upon full acquiescence in any policy, including tariff revision, that the President champions. They are, most of them, mere flotsam and jetsam swept into temporary prominence on the crest of the wave that carried Mr. Roosevelt, rather than the Republican party, to such an astounding victory. It is well known that these men, the beneficiaries of the President's popularity, are willing to acquiesce in his wishes. That settled, the Senate must and will acquiesce or cause a split in the party.

Recent advices from Washington indicate that the President has fully made up his mind that the Republican party under his administration must have to its credit a substantial reduction of the tariff; that the reduction made must be along lines that will encourage competition with trust made products; that reciprocity calculated to give an outlet to the products of our factories and encourage the extension of our markets must be put in successful operation.

The insistent demand for reciprocity with Canada has grown of late to storm-like proportions. From every

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.
Few are entirely free from it.
Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." Mrs. J. H. Jones, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

State along the Canadian border, from New York to the Pacific coast, comes the cry for closer commercial relations with the Dominion. While Canadians are flocking to the great cities of the northern states, especially to the cities along the lakes, American farmers and capitalists are going to Canada seeking opportunities for investment. None, better than President Roosevelt, is aware of the fact, that within the past two or three years, not less than $100,000,000 of American capital has been invested in manufacturing enterprises on the Canadian side simply because of the restrictions on trade between the two countries due to Republican tariff legislation and whose perpetration has been due to blind and unreasoning stubbornness. The President is aware and every man in this country, who has studied the situation, knows that to the tariff more than to any other one thing is due the commercial and social estrangement between Canada and the United States. Hitherto the tariff has been maintained largely for the benefit of Maine, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota lumber lords, but with the depletion of the timber supply north the South has come to the front as the lumber supply house of the United States and the men of the North who would invest in Canadian timber, and profit thereby, must leap a tariff wall every time they cross the border and every time they seek a market for the productions of their enterprise and capital. President Roosevelt knows as well as any man living that with the construction of the Panama canal all barriers to our trade north and south must be removed, that American capital, labor and enterprise must be given full sway for the development of the untold mines of wealth in Canada, Mexico, Central and South America. Mr. Roosevelt can find no better platform upon which to stand with respect to the tariff and the country's trade expansion than the speech delivered at Buffalo by the late President McKinley, which the Republican machine politicians have disregarded. He will have the support of the country in the stand, which according to all authentic reports, he has taken. Two-thirds of his own party and all Democrats will be with him in his avowed intention to promote the interests of the country by unshackling the nation's commerce.

The Key That Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund well-fed, but thin, spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by all druggists.

CITY WATER WORKS

Should an Effort be Made to Ascertain Whether the Present System Can be Purchased by the City at an Advantage?

An ordinance has been introduced by the city council to repeal the ordinance authorizing the sale of the corporation of municipal water works bonds. The real object of the introduction of the repealing ordinance may not be properly understood by the people generally. The Advocate is authorized to state that it does not mean that the council intends to abandon the project of building and owning its own water works system. The real object is simply to give time to ascertain whether it is practical to purchase the present water works system. The people should understand that if a price is fixed by arbitration, as a special committee of the council has recommended, that the city will not be bound to purchase at such price or at any price, if it should not desire to do so. In any event the purchase price fixed by arbitration will have to be submitted to the people for ratification at a special election before said purchase can be made.

The matter of purchasing the present water works system is certainly an important one, and may be of vital interest to the taxpayers of this city. All our citizens will remember the strong stand The Advocate took in favor of city ownership of a water works system. The Advocate cham-

STRENUOUS PROGRAM

Being Prepared by the Herrick Leaders for His Renomination--Plans to Set Up Delegations from the Counties--Many Believe He Cannot be Elected.

Columbus, O., Dec. 3.—The Herrick leaders in this state are preparing a strenuous program in behalf of their chief's renomination, and it is proposed to work it off so quickly that the average Republican will not know what has happened until the performance is over. As long as he is not to be consulted, however, the average Republican may take what satisfaction he can out of the advice he would get if he should kick; namely, that the conduct of the Republican party in Ohio is none of his business.

It is the intention of the Dick-Herrick crowd to hold an early state convention. Some of these on the inside of the governor's combination say that April is none too soon. This would be half a year before the election. The case is desperate, however, occasioned by the necessity of forcing a crisis before the opposition to Herrick has been able to unite all its elements and to get down to the practical work of selecting delegates. The instructed delegations will be the trump card of the governor's managers. Their agents are already out over the state sounding the Dick and Herrick leaders in the various counties relative to the possibility of attempting to enforce instructions in the several counties. Whenever the slightest encouragement is given that this step may prove successful instructions are issued to go ahead for an instructed delegation and freeze out every Republican not in favor of that program. Long before the convention the governor hopes to get to a majority of delegates instructed for him. It would then all be over except the shouting and the Dick-Herrick crowd would not only be saved much apprehension but considerable money.

Nevertheless it cannot be doubted that the renomination and re-election of Governor Herrick would work a revolutionary change in the affairs of the Republican party in this state. There is not much evidence indicating that the Governor can be re-elected, but his defeat could hardly be construed as a subject of congratulation from a Republican partisan standpoint. The great trouble is that his re-election would not be more encouraging. If Herrick is re-elected he will at once become a candidate to succeed Senator Foraker. In this he will have the backing of the old Hanna machine, headed by Dick and Malloy. He will have the entire state patronage and the local machinery in almost all the counties. The mere fact that he had triumphed would have a tendency to greatly strengthen him in the legislature and in every way promote his future political plans. To oppose all these influences Foraker could summon only the control of the lion's share of the national patronage, but even in this Dick would have to be consulted to some extent and perhaps Herrick, too, as a matter of ordinary decency. President Roosevelt is not going to make an unconditional surrender of the functions of the executive office to Senator Foraker in Ohio, even though he may prefer that statement to his colleague. It is evident, therefore, that the

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.
In the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.
If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

BEAUTY MORE THAN SKIN DEEP.
A Good Complexion Must Come From Within.
It is the natural desire of every ambitious woman to have a clear skin and a beautiful complexion. Outward application of powders can never do more than partially cover up a poor complexion and is apt to ruin the texture of the skin if used persistently. Constipation is responsible for not only the greater part of headaches, biliousness, bad breath, torpid liver, backache and lack of energy but for sallow, muddy complexions as well. The only right way to remove pimples, blotches and clear up a muddy, cloudy complexion is to go right to the root of the trouble. The one remedy that will cure constipation, improve the complexion, brighten the eyes, quicken the circulation, cure sick headache and insure a clear, velvety skin is Laxakola Tonic Tablets. So that there may be no possible chance for disappointment, and to protect both you and the druggist, we have agreed to refund the full retail price of 25 cents to Wiles-Erman Drug Co., by issuing a Guarantee Contract authorizing them to pay back your money if the remedy does not benefit you as claimed. 12-3-stf

Nichols and Nagle Must Die.

The state board of pardons has rejected the applications of both for commutation of sentence. Arguments were also heard in behalf of Charles Geissler, who killed his brother John and was sentenced to four years for manslaughter, but no decision was reached.

Blaze in Business District.

The fire started in the basement of the Titus Supply company's store which was gutted and spread to the building adjoining, occupied by Weigand & Klinckel, shoe dealers, and on the second floor by Dr. Isaac's offices.

Mrs. Ida Caldwell, 506 Pearl street, Sioux City, Ia., Vice-President Order of Washington, writes:

"I suffered with catarrh of the respiratory organs off and on for the last three years until I thought it was chronic. My chest and lungs were irritated and I had to use the greatest care not to expose myself to chilly air or dampness as it increased my troubles."

"My physician advised me to try a change of climate, but I was unable to leave my family. Reading of the wonderful cures performed by Peruna, I bought a bottle."

"It was with the greatest satisfaction that I found it the one medicine among them all which cured me. I was relieved within three days and after two months and a half the irritation was gone, my lungs perfectly healed and my health restored."—Ida Caldwell.

Thousands of women owe their lives to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands owe their health to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands are praising Peruna in every state of the Union.

We have many thousands of letters from grateful women, with permission to use them in public print, which can never be used for want of space.

Catarrh would not be such a curse in this country if the people thoroughly understood its nature. It must be treated at once to prevent it from making inroads upon vital organs.

If you suffer from catarrh, buy Peruna today, for a day gained on the enemy, catarrh, means a day nearer recovery.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the one given here. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD.

All the theatre goers will undoubtedly be delighted to be enabled to witness the latest and greatest melodramatic success, "The Johnstown Flood," which is managed by Johnson & Matthews' offering to their many patrons for one performance on December 15. "The Johnstown Flood" is a story of life in the Conemaugh Valley, near Johnstown, Pa., strongly melodramatic and richly humorous, written by Chas. Townsend, Esq. The play is in four acts, with ten marvelous scenes, all especially built and printed for this production. The great scene in Act III is said to be a marvel of the stage mechanic's art. The cast includes only well known players and a first class production is assured.

"THE MAID AND MUMMY."

Mirth and melody are the two principal ingredients in "The Maid and the Mummy" which have contributed so largely to its success and that is successful is evinced by the fact that it is to play return engagements in every big city in the East that it has already

"Crazy," sung in the first act by Louis Wesley and the chorus; "Polly," by Richard Carroll and six extremely beautiful young women in act two, and "Peculiar Julia," which Eddie Garvie warbles with a full chorus in the same act. But there are many others and all catchy and beautiful. "The Maid and the Mummy" has decidedly played, before the close of the present season. The musical numbers are received with great favor by the large audiences which nightly congregate to laugh at the drolleries of the mummy and the fair maid; to see the pretty May Loley, Adelle Rowland, Mrs. Annie which has been provided for Richard Carroll and produce on will be presented. Seat sale will open Saturday, December 3, at 5:30.

THE RAILWAYS

M. A. KINSEY NEW FOREMAN OF S. & O. ROUNDHOUSE.

Proposed Wabash Extension from Bowerstown Through Cadiz— Railway News.

M. A. Kinsey has been appointed foreman of the round house at the B. & O. shops, this city, vice A. W. Pratt.

Wabash Extension.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 3.—Right of way men of the Wabash are reported to be negotiating for right of way for a branch line of that road to be built from Bowerstown, O., through Cadiz and to a point on the Ohio river above Wheeling, connecting with the Wheeling and Lake Erie, controlled by the Wabash. The proposed line will traverse a rich coal territory, and will also give Wheeling direct communication with Cadiz and other eastern Ohio towns.

Water Badly Needed.

There is a great scarcity of water between Columbus and Cincinnati. The Columbus Dispatch publishes an interview with H. L. Dennison, of Cincinnati. It says:

"If you will stop to think you will remember that we have had no rain to amount to anything for more than a month and many of the smaller streams of the state are running very low. So scarce is this water in certain towns between Columbus and Cincinnati that the B. & O. S. W. railroad have difficulty in watering their engines. Freight engines, because of heavier loads, require more water for their steam and this leaves even less for the passenger trains. Every gallon of water used by the railroads leaves that much less for the town and there have been several instances lately where it was a question of whether a passenger train could pull through to its next watering station. Some of these towns have absolutely forbidden passenger trains to take water there and an engineer has to trust to luck to get from watering station to watering station."

A HAPPY MOTHER

WEATHERFORD, TEXAS, May 14, 1902.

Before my baby was born I was in great misery. I was just able to be about but just as soon as I began to take Wine of Cardui, which had been recommended to me, I felt much better. In fact I feel that if it had not been for this medicine I would not have been strong enough to live through childbirth. But that was made comparatively easy by taking your medicine for four months before baby came. Wine of Cardui restored my health as I took it two months afterward. I cannot speak too highly of Wine of Cardui and I am glad to endorse it.

Mrs. C. C. Wood

TREASURER, YOUNG MATRONS' CLUB.

Wine of Cardui is a powerful tonic which acts on the generative organs of women, regulating menstruation and giving tone and strength to the organs which inflammation and weakness have affected. It cures nineteen out of every twenty cases of bearing-down pains or ovarian trouble. Wine of Cardui cures barrenness and aids the mother in conserving her strength for the ordeal of childbirth. After that event the Wine prevents dangerous flooding and helps mothers to quick recovery. Wine of Cardui is the one medicine a mother should use before and after childbirth.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

A BRACKET-CLOCK WHICH ANY BOY CAN MAKE

From the December St. Nicholas, Copyrighted, 1904, by the Century Co.

A GOOD design for a simple bracket clock is shown in the illustration. It is made from thin boards half an inch thick, half a yard of burlap, some large-headed nails, and an inexpensive clock movement run by springs or weights.

The box part of the case is eight inches square and three and a half inches in depth, and the bracket may be detached or be a part of the sides, cut, as shown in Fig. 2, to extend six inches below the bottom of the box. The dial and glass frame should measure six inches in diameter, and to facilitate the hanging of the clock, to cut a hole in the front of the case five and a half inches in diameter, as shown also in Fig. 2.

The shelf top of the box is located at the under side and attached with glue and nails. It overhangs the sides and front of the box about two inches, and is made from wood three-quarters of an inch thick.

It is impossible to find large-headed nails to finish the edges of the front and sides, mock nail heads, three-quarters of an inch in diameter, can be cut from lead and applied with thin steel nails. The movement, which can be purchased from a clockmaker, is attached to the back of the case before the dial is made fast. The clockmaker can also mount and adjust the dial and movement if necessary.

Delightful devotional services and some beautiful selections on the subject were rendered by the

HUNTING

SEASON ONE OF THE POOREST IN COUNTRY'S HISTORY.

Sportsmen Blame the Drouth as Dogs Were Not Able to Get the Scent.

The hunting season which closes Saturday night has been one of the most unsuccessful ever known in this county.

Several reasons have been assigned for the scarcity of game, but the unsuccessful pursuit of rabbits and birds is generally attributed by Newark hunters to the prevailing drouth, which prevents the dogs from getting the scent.

The drouth is also causing a famine of soft water and many cisterns in Newark are dry. Unless rain comes soon the farmers say the stock will suffer.

How the Ryls Colored the Toys

HUSH lay on the Laughing Valley
now. Snow covered it like a white spread, and pillows of downy flakes drifted before the dwelling where Claus sat feeding the blaze of the fire. The brook gurgled on beneath a heavy sheet of ice, and all living plants and insects nestled close to Mother Earth to keep warm. The face of the moon was hid by dark clouds, and the wind, delighting in the wintry sport, pushed and whirled the snowflakes in so many directions that they could get no chance to fall to the ground.

Claus heard the wind whistling and shrieking in its play and thanked the good Knooks again for his comfortable shelter. Blinkie washed her face lazily and stared at the coals with a look of perfect content. The toy cat sat opposite the real one and gazed straight ahead, as toy cats should.

Suddenly Claus heard a noise that sounded different from the voice of the wind. It was more like a wail of suffering and despair.

He stood up and listened, but the wind, growing boisterous, shook the door and rattled the windows to distract his attention. He waited until the wind was tired, and then, still listening, he heard once more the shrill cry of distress.

Quickly he drew on his coat, pulled his cap over his eyes and opened the door. The wind dashed in and scattered the embers over the hearth, at the same time blowing Blinkie's fur so furiously that she crept under the table to escape. Then the door was closed, and Claus was outside, peering anxiously into the darkness.

The wind laughed and scolded and tried to push him over, but he stood firm. The helpless flakes stumbled against his eyes and dimmed his sight, but he rubbed them away and looked again. Snow was everywhere, white and glittering. It covered the earth and filled the air.

The cry was not repeated.
Claus turned to go back into the house, but the wind caught him unaware, and he stumbled and fell across a snowdrift. His hand plunged into the drift and touched something that was not snow. This he seized and, pulling it gently toward him, found it to be a child. The next moment he had lifted it in his arms and carried it into the house.

The wind followed him through the door, but Claus shut it out quickly.
He laid the rescued child on the hearth, and, brushing away the snow, he discovered it to be Weekum, a little boy who lived in a house beyond the Valley.

Claus wrapped a warm blanket around the little one and rubbed the frost from his limbs. Before long the child opened his eyes and, seeing where he was, smiled happily. Then Claus warmed milk and fed it to the boy slowly, while the cat looked on with sober curiosity. Finally the little one curled up in his friend's arms and sighed and fell asleep, and Claus, filled with gladness that he had found the wanderer, held him closely while he slumbered.

The wind, finding no more mischief to do, climbed the hill and swept on toward the north. This gave the weary snowflakes time to settle down to earth, and the Valley became still again.

The boy, having slept well in the arms of his friend, opened his eyes and sat up. Then, as a child will, he looked around the room and saw all that it contained.

"Your cat is a nice cat, Claus," he said at last. "Let me hold it."

But puss objected and ran away.
"The other cat won't run, Claus," continued the boy. "Let me hold that one." Claus placed the toy in his arms, and the boy held it lovingly and kissed the tip of its wooden ear.

"How did you get lost in the storm, Weekum?" asked Claus.

"I started to walk to my auntie's house and lost my way," answered Weekum.

"Were you frightened?"

"It was cold," said Weekum, "and the snow got in my eyes, so I could not see. Then I kept on till I fell in the snow, without knowing where I was,
and the wind blew the flakes over me
and covered me up."

Claus gently stroked his head, and the boy looked up at him and smiled.
"I'm all right now," said Weekum.
"Yes," replied Claus happily. "Now I will put you in my warm bed, and you must sleep until morning, when I will carry you back to your mother."

"May the cat sleep with me?" asked the boy.

"Yes, if you wish it to," answered
Claus.

"It's a nice cat," Weekum said, smiling, as Claus tucked the blanket around him, and presently the little one fell asleep with the wooden toy in his arms.

When morning came the sun claimed the Laughing Valley and flooded it with his rays, so Claus prepared to take the lost child back to his mother, tight to her breast, as if it had been
"May I keep the cat, Claus?" asked a precious gem, and would not let it go.
"It's nicer than real cats for a single moment. The fever was
It doesn't run away or scratch or bite, quivered, the pain grew less, and she May I keep it?"

"Yes, indeed," answered Claus, pleased that the toy he had made could give pleasure to the child. So he wrapped the boy and the wooden cat in a warm cloak, perching the bundle upon his own broad shoulders, and then he tramped through the snow and the drifts of the Valley and across the plain beyond to the poor cottage where Weekum's mother lived.

"See, mamma," cried the boy, as soon as they entered, "I've got a cat!"
The good woman wept tears of joy at the rescue of her darling and Shiegra thanked Claus many times for his kind act. So he carried a warm and happy heart back to his home in the Valley.

"That night he said to puss: 'I believe the children will love the wooden cats almost as well as the real ones, and they can't hurt them by pulling their tails and ears. I'll make another.'" So this was the beginning of his great work.

The next cat was better made than the first. While Claus sat whittling it out the Yellow Ryl came in to make him a visit, and so pleased was he to see the man's skill that he ran away in Claus's new labors, and said:
"These images seem to me very attractive. Yet I cannot see why you

"If it could be made the same color as the real cat, no one would know the difference," said the Yellow Ryl thoughtfully.

"The little ones, maybe, would not know the difference," replied Claus, pleased with the idea.

"I will bring you some of the red that I color my roses and tulips with," cried the Red Ryl, "and then you can make the cat's lips and tongue red."

"I will bring some of the green that I color my grasses and leaves with," said the Green Ryl, "and then you can color the cat's eyes green."

"They will need a bit of yellow, also," remarked the Yellow Ryl. "I must fetch some of the yellow that I use to color my buttercups and goldenrods with."

"The real cat is black," said the Black Ryl. "I will bring some of the black that I use to color the eyes of my pansies with, and then you can paint your wooden cat black."

"I see you have a blue ribbon around Blinkie's neck," added the Blue Ryl.
"I will get some of the color that I use to paint the bluebells and forgetmenots with, and then you can carve a wooden ribbon on the toy cat's neck and paint it blue."

So the Ryls disappeared, and by the time Claus had finished carving out the form of the cat they were all back with the paints and brushes.

They made Blinkie sit upon the table, that Claus might paint the toy cat just the right color, and when the work was done the Ryls declared it was exactly as good as a live cat.

Claus makes his first toy

"That is, to all appearances," added
the Red Ryl.

Blinkie seemed a little offended by the attention bestowed upon the toy, and that she might not seem to approve the imitation cat she walked to the corner of the hearth and sat down with a dignified air.

But Claus was delighted, and as soon as morning came he started out and tramped through the snow, across the Valley and the plain, until he came to a village. There, in a poor hut near the walls of the beautiful palace of the Lord of Lord, a little girl lay upon a wretched cot, moaning with pain.

Claus approached the child and kissed her and comforted her, and then he drew the toy cat from beneath his coat, where he had hidden it, and placed it in her arms.

At how well he felt himself repaid for his labor and his long walk when he saw the little one's eyes grow bright
with his rays, so Claus prepared to take the lost child back to his mother,
tight to her breast, as if it had been

Not "ragpicker," exactly as we might understand it, but almost that. His grandfather, Zenas Crane, founded a small paper mill at Dalton, in the western part of Massachusetts, and his father, also Zenas, succeeded to the business. When Murray Crane was 17 years old he left the public schools to take a place in the mill, beginning at the lowest place that of ragpicker.

W. E. BRUBAKER KILLED

Time keeper at The Wehrle Stove Foundry Met Death in a Horrible Form on Saturday Morning--Crushed by Train He Died in a Half Hour.

William E. Brubaker, who has been known for many years in Newark as "Wit" Brubaker, was killed Saturday morning in a particularly distressing accident. For about three months he has been employed by the Wehrle company as a time-keeper. Saturday morning after taking the time of the men working in the old foundry, he started for the new. A train had been "cut" on a sidetrack and he started between the two sections. He did not notice the conductor's signal to "couple up", and the two sections came together, the unfortunate man being caught between the cars. He was frightfully injured internally and died in about a half hour after the accident in the arms of his brother-in-law, Joseph Moser, councilman from the Third ward.

The deceased was aged 25 years and has been employed by the Wehrle company for about three months. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Brubaker, and lived with his wife on State street. He leaves no children, but besides a mother and father, a sister, Mrs. Joseph R. Moser, and a brother, Charles Brubaker, survive.

The funeral services will be conducted from the home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon by Rev. H. Newton Miller, the interment being made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

After the accident the unfortunate victim was carried into the shop where he was surrounded by loving friends. He was conscious for about 20 minutes after the accident and realized his terrible injuries. The remains were taken to the undertaking establishment of Bowers & Criss Bros., where it was prepared for interment.

Vital Magnetism.

Is the greatest curative agent known to man. Through its agency normal conditions are re-established and health restored. It succeeds when everything else fails.

Mrs. M. Carrio of Kane, Ill., says: "I suffered many years with heart trouble; had sciatic rheumatism so bad I could scarcely walk, tried many doctors. One Chicago specialist did not want my case at all. After four treatments from Prof. Carpenter the rheumatism entirely disappeared, and in two weeks my heart scarcely bothered me at all. I would not take $500 and go back where I was before taking the Professor's treatment. I highly recommend his treatment to all who suffer."

Mrs. A. Beal of Colony, Kansas R. F. D. No. 2, says: "In 1901, I suffered with a severe case of sore eyes, was completely cured in six treatments by Prof. Carpenter. He also cured my two little girls of stomach and liver trouble."

All manner of diseases successfully treated by this method.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 3.—Prof. D. J. Shaffer, principal, was about to punish George Reed, 17, at school yesterday. Reed tripped him and Shaffer fell to the floor, with the pupil upon him. Shaffer was fatally released and finished the morning session. At noon he became unconscious and now it is feared he may die.

An English educational society, which declares that people ought to live in and use their "front rooms" has created a sensation. The London Express remarks: "Such a reckless suggestion is calculated to undermine the very foundation of lower middle-class home life in this country." The front room being sacred to "company" over there. Next thing it will be suggested that the Britishers wear their "best clothes" every day.

The sight of birds is extraordinary, and the simple fact that the eye of a hawk or plover is larger than their whole brain gives some idea of what their powers of sight must be, and of how easily they can fly hundreds of miles if they have no marks to guide them.

BURGLARY

IS THE CHARGE MADE AGAINST JOHN GAULT.

Extreme Penalty Under New Law Is Imprisonment For Life—Gault Sent to Jail.

Mr. E. C. Noon appeared before Mayor A. J. Crilly Saturday morning and filed an affidavit charging John Gault with burglarizing an inhabited dwelling house. The affidavit sets forth that the crime was committed on Friday evening at 6 o'clock and that Gault had stolen one pair of gold spectacles, one bunch of keys, two combs, a lot of handkerchiefs, one pair of scissors, all of the value of about $15. Gault was arrested a few minutes after the robbery by Officers Hager and Howard, and the Mayor bound him over to the grand jury in the sum of $500.

The punishment for this crime of burglarizing an inhabited house, is very severe under a recent law, the extreme penalty being imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. Noon, who made the charge, resides at the corner of North Fourth and Church streets, where he has rooms. When Gault was arrested some of the stolen property was found on his person. Two men who saw Gault in the building where the robbery was committed, gave the alarm, and considerable excitement ensued. Gault is a brother of the young man who was killed in Vogelmeier's sand pit a year or two ago, and has been before Mayor Crilly on several different occasions.

This crime illustrates very strikingly the serious risks criminals will take for trifling amounts of plunder. The property Gault is charged with stealing in this case was probably not worth a week's wages of an average man.
